President’s Report

Technology has brought us all closer this year and the use of e-mail has greatly facilitated the development of the St Ann’s network.

As the year comes to a close, I would like to thank Justine Baggs and Jayne Taylor for their fantastic work in making the organisation more organised. Thanks also to our other dedicated committee members who do so much in serving the current and future students.

May you all have a Merry Christmas and a bright and Happy New Year.

Simon Stevens

Glamorous Jo-Anne Khan (91) is working in a senior position with the Department of Education, Training and Employment – Youth Affairs. Her brother Gavin (86, 91) is a Manager with the Department of Education and is building a house.

Megan Quill (94) recently visited the UK and holidayed with Megan Brady (93-4) and Nikki Crickmay (93-4), who are working in London.

Louise Sandercock (86-8) was among the glitterati giving Wagner’s Tannhauser a standing ovation during the Festival of Perth.

Dana Saint (94-7) is finishing her Post-Graduate Diploma in Criminology while working as a Project Manager in the Head Office of the Department of Justice in Melbourne.

The following valedicts are leaving College as graduates after spending all their student days living at St Ann’s:

Courtney Hayes (96-00), Paul Hudak (97-00), Benita Inchbold (98-00) the Female Collegian of the Year 2000, Melissa Laing (98-00), Jason Lee (95-00), Samantha Nunan (97-00), Jacinta Plunkett (97-00), and Sonia Wilkie (97-00). We say very fond farewells. The Male Collegians of the Year are Jarrod Carter (98-00) and Brent Laws (98-00).

Andrew Brooks (90-5) received his MSc degree from ANU. He has a radio program, Nuclear Winter, in Cambridge Mass. and is doubtless contributing to the new image of metal music with a sense of humour as documented in The Australian Magazine 2-3 December 2000.

Heather Laidlaw (95-7) is completing her studies to teach dance in schools.

Belinda (Procter 85-8) Hoult is completing her Master’s degree in Linguistics and is considering taking up a... position to teach in Vietnam, taking her family with her.

Natalie Charlesworth (87-8) has started work as the Media Manager for the Snowtown Litigation Project with the Courts Administration Authority – a huge task. Natalie, who with her husband has three children, is a qualified and experienced journalist completing very distinguished studies towards a degree in law.

A further cause for celebration in 2000 is the Jubilee of international students at St Ann’s. The first was Dr Loraine Lim who came in 1950 from Singapore and stayed throughout her successful studies in Medicine.

The College is nostalgically farewelling the Cottages, bought in 1946 and 1957 by a very far-sighted Council for the purpose of one day building exciting accommodation for the students of the future. That day is nearly here!

Right: Sketch of future accommodation on Melbourne Street

Neville Koop (80-3) an ex collegian reports that Keni Dakuidreketi (80-3) still serves as interim Minister for Youth and Sports and hastens to add that during this entire event. He was asked to serve as an interim Minister in view of his successful business, and the community work he has undertaken in his home province.

Neville is the Consultant Meteorologist at Vuda Point in Lautoka, Emosi Toga (80-3) (aka Emosi Vitilevu during his college years) is another collegian in Fiji. Emosi is now Manager Northern of the Fiji Native Land Trust Board. Neville, Emosi and Keni would like to reassure everyone that, despite recent events, Fiji remains a very pleasant country to visit, and they would all welcome any collegians who happen to pass this way.
